

IFP, Ranchi to provide guidelines and technical support to WB Forest Development Corporation on Lac Cultivation for Farmers at Salonchi in Kansawati Forest Division, Purulia, West Bengal

Technical expert Shri S N Vaidya from IFP, Ranchi visited the Broodlac farm at Salonchi in Kansawati Forest Division, Purulia, West Bengal to monitor the Broodlac inoculation and provide technical support on establishment and management of Broodlac farm, to the forest department. Shri Vaidya, elaborated the technicalities of Broodlac inoculation and its management to the forest officials. In this connection, institute has received a letter from Divisional Manager, Forest Corporation (South) Division, Kharagpur, WB, extending his thanks to Director, IFP, Ranchi for sending the technical expert to the farm site. He has further requested the Director for signing a MOU between the IFP and West Bengal Forest Development Corporation (WBFDC), for technical support, regular monitoring and scientific guidelines for the management of the established Broodlac farm throughout the project period. The signing of MOU is under progress.

A meeting was held at Garpanchkot Bhawan Kendra, Punchet Hill, Raghunathpur, Purulia, West Bengal with General Manager and Divisional Manager, West Bengal Forest Corporation regarding technical

TRADITIONAL LAC CULTIVATION IN WEST BENGAL

