- All India Coordinated Research Project on Bamboo- Morphological characters of Dendrocalamus sikkimensis has been collected and analyzed from FRI Bambusetum and Botanical garden. 08 sequences of 2 Bamboo species (Bambusa polymorpha and Bambusa tulda) with 4 different markers were submitted in NCBI. 03 Bamboo species (Dendrocalamus hamiltonii, Dendrocalamus giganteus and Schizostachyum dullooa) with five different barcoding markers were PCR amplified and successfully sequenced.
- Developing seed testing and seed storage protocols of selected forestry species from diverse forest type:- Successfully stored the seeds and extended the seed viability of the following species at 5°C and 15°C storage temperatures. Toona sinensis (Germination rate is 74% at 5°C and 66% at 15°C in 12 months). Pterospermum acerifolium (Germination rate is 90% at Ambient RT and 95% at 5°C in 21 months). Tsuga dumosa (Germination rate is 50% at 5°C and 40% at 15°C in 12 months). Alnus nitida (Germination rate is 30% at 5°C and 20% at 15°C in 12 months). Albizia odoratissima (Germination rate is 65% at 5°C and 20% at 15°C in 27 months).
- All India Coordinated Project on Bamboos:- Seeds of Ochlandra scriptoria were germination tested using vermiculite, quartzite sand and coco peat medium. Highest germination and seedling vigour was reported in vermiculite substratum. Germination test was conducted in the stored seeds of Dendrocalamus strictus (at 8% SMC) and Bambusa bambos (at 7% & 10% SMC) reported 77%, 84% & 87% GP respectively.

ICFRE-Institute of Forest Genetics & Tree Breeding, Coimbatore

- Population status of relict plant species such as Dipterocarpus bourdillonii (Critically endangered), Antistrophe serratifolia (Vulnerable), Phyllanthus anamalayanus (Critically endangered) and Psychotria anamallayana (Endangered) which are prioritized for conservation in Tamil Nadu has been assessed in the Anamalai Tiger Reserve, Tamil Nadu. About 36 individuals of Dipterocarpus bourdillonii, 57 individuals of Phyllanthus anamalayanus, 168 individuals of Psychotria anamallayana and 73 individuals of Antistrophe serratifolia have been recorded in various forest areas of Anamalai Tiger Reserve, Tamil Nadu. Information on their flowering, fruiting and regeneration and threats to these plant species were also recorded.

- The whole transcriptome study in Mitragyna parvifolia was carried out to develop and design new microsatellite primers. New microsatellite primers were designed from the transcriptome sequence of Mitragyna parvifolia using Primer 3 plus software. Initially ten primers were designed for synthesis. The developed SSR primer motifs were 3 di and 7 tri repeats such as (AG)<sub>7</sub>, (CT)<sub>11</sub>, (AC)<sub>14</sub>, (AGA)<sub>6</sub>, (TGA)<sub>5</sub>, (CAT)<sub>8</sub>, (TAA)<sub>5</sub>, (TCC)<sub>6</sub>, (AAG)<sub>6</sub>, (GAT)<sub>6</sub>. The length of these primers was 20 bp and the GC content was 45% to 50%. The product size ranged from 170bp to 250bp. These SSR primers will be useful for genetic diversity and population structure analysis in Mitragyna parvifolia.
